

Basic Communication Skills for FRONTLINE HEALTH WORKERS

CPD Point Awarded

FREE Course

This Course is supported by Johnson and Johnson, the East, Central and Southern Africa College of Nursing (ECSACON) and the Ecumenical Pharmaceutical Network (EPN).

Overview

This course is brought to you free of cost under the project, Supply Chain Management Curriculum Development for Frontline Healthcare Workers in Sub-Saharan Africa.

Completing this course will not only increase your knowledge, but in selected countries you will also accrue Continuing Professional Development (CPD) points.

About the Course

This course help you learn essential communication skills for your day-to-day tasks. There are 4 main domains in this course:

Fundamentals of communication

Forms of communication

Communication skills

Barriers and effects of prejudice, culture, beliefs and values in effective communication

Course includes

On Completion of this course, you'll get a certificate and awarded CPD point*

Applicable in Botswana, Kenya, Rwanda, South Africa, Malawi, Eswatini, Lesotho, Zimbabwe, Zambia, Tanzania, South Sudan, Seychelles, Mauritius, Uganda, Namibia, Mozambique countries.